HANAYA CONFLICT MINERALS COMPLIANCE LETTER

Dear Customer:

HANAYA is fully supportive of global industry efforts to ensure responsible manufacturing processes and material sourcing.

Based on the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act passed in July 2010, this act requires companies to report the use of "Conflict Minerals" in their products. "Conflict Minerals" identified as gold, tantalum, tungsten, tin, cobalt and copper derived from mineral ores in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) or its specified adjoining countries.

HANAYA does not use or knowingly use any Conflict Minerals in our products. All the metal components that have been acquired are through a global supply chain, of which everything comes processed. We have begun a survey of our suppliers to ascertain there are no Conflict Minerals in the materials they supply to us. We will continue to do so for our new suppliers moving forward to ensure that Conflict Minerals are not incorporated into our products.
